

Why Join ARDLA?

The Arkansas Distance Learning Association offers many benefits to members including:

- belonging to a professional organization nationally recognized as the leader in distance learning (USDLA)
- ARDLA provides a legislative voice for issues regarding distance learning in Arkansas.
- the opportunity to network with distance learning professionals
- annual ARDLA Conference
- awards for outstanding achievement or contribution to distance learning in Arkansas

Who Are We?

The Arkansas Distance Learning Association (ARDLA) is a private, non-profit organization, dedicated to providing leadership within the state of Arkansas for the field of distance learning. As part of that mission, we will pursue the following objectives: advocacy, providing a primary source of information, policy, recognition, publicity, publications, partnerships, and consulting.

ARDLA is the state chapter of the United States Distance Learning Association (USDLA). USDLA is nationally recognized as the leading distance learning organization. Both USDLA and ARDLA are dedicated to promoting distance education and providing information and resources that enhance the distance learning experience for students, faculty, administrators, and technicians.
